Stanhope offices to break ground in early spring

Stanhope Township's new municipal office is ready to progress from the drawing board as soon as the weather allows for the ground breaking.

Tenders for the construction project were opened in February, and last Wednesday council went into a closed session to discuss which company should be awarded the contract. James Howe building contractors won the contract with the lowest bid of $208,643.

The new office is to be built on municipal lands near the firehall and library. Township Administrator Gerald Bain said the start-up date for construction is May 1, but if weather permits, it could be earlier.

The 3,400-square-foot frame and brick building will house the council chambers and administrative offices. The plans also include a full basement, which will provide room for future space needs.

Bain said the bid from James Howe takes the project to the point where drywall is installed. Trim and finishings will cost extra, he said.

The township also accepted a bid from Silver City Construction for the installation of a septic system at a cost of $2,400.

Bain said councillors seemed pleased with the tenders. The overall cost equals about $64 per square foot, he said.

The target date for the completion of the project is Oct. 15.

Highlights

Leadership hopeful

Liberal leadership candidate Paul Martin Jr. attempted to steer away from discussion on the Meech Lake Accord when he addressed fellow Liberals in Lindsay last week. Martin was in the riding to solicit support for his bid to replace John Turner as the leader of the federal party. Please see page 2.

Hazard lands

The Ministry of Natural Resources has said it does not require an official plan amendment for minor changes to Hazard Land Zoning. It is now up to Minden Council to change its rules to avoid unfair costs to landowners. Please see page 7.

Community policing

Community policing may soon be a reality in Haliburton Village now that the Minden OPP detachment has assigned an officer to deal specifically with this innovative initiative. Please see page 10.

HANGIN' OUT: Christopher Preston, Nicole Gauley and Bradley Gauley were soaking up the sun last Thursday from their perch in a tree on Main Street in Minden. Students couldn't have asked for better weather for their March school break. record-breaking warm temperatures gave the kids a chance to get outside and enjoy their week away from studies.

Bank rates discourage tax payments

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Minden could repair the arena, pay for the new ball diamond and still have change left over if the township was able to collect all of its outstanding taxes.

At the start of the year, the township was owed $334,215 in property and business taxes, including interest and penalties.

But Minden Reeve Ray Moore says the situation is not as desperate as the numbers suggest. He says non-payment of taxes is related to high interest rates charged by the banks.

Under the Municipal Act, municipalities can only charge a maximum of 15 per cent interest per year. If a ratepayer is in a position where he has to borrow money to pay his taxes, Moore says "it's cheaper to pay the penalty than to pay a bank rate of 18 per cent."

If the situation gets any worse, Moore says council might have to lobby the Ministry of Municipal Affairs to increase the maximum penalty municipalities can impose on back taxes.

Despite the large amount of unpaid taxes, Moore says the total is less than one per cent of Minden's budget. "There's no indication of troubled times in the future," said Moore.

His theory is supported by the trends in tax defaults. Until the end of 1988 the total amount of outstanding taxes was $144,838.

During 1989 the Bank of Canada began pushing interest rates up in order to fight inflation and during that same period Minden's unpaid tax total more than doubled to the current amount.

The process for recovering unpaid taxes is both long and complicated. It can take up to four years for the municipality to recover unpaid property taxes.

Leadership candidate addresses 'real issues'

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Liberal leadership hopeful Paul Martin Jr. is trying to shift the focus of the leadership campaign away from debate over the Meech Lake accord and towards Canada's long-term prospects for survival.

Martin spoke at Lindsay's Admiral Inn last Thursday, trying to enlist the support of the Victoria-Haliburton Federal Liberal Association.

Addressing an audience of about 40 people, Martin told the local Liberals that in the three leadership forums held to date, the focus of debate has been the beleaguered accord.

"Instead of focusing on the real issues, these forums have focused on Brian Mulroney's agenda," said Martin.

The deadline for the provinces to support the accord is June 23, the same day as the new leader of the federal Liberal party will be chosen.

"Not one of us can affect that decision," he said. "The accord will either live or die and we will have to live with the result."

"We ought to be discussing the kind of country we will have after June 23."

The Meech Lake Accord must be ratified by June 23 or the deal will die. Manitoba and New Brunswick are the only two provinces still withholding support and Newfoundland has threatened to rescind its support.

The accord is designed to bring Quebec into the Canadian Constitution. It recognizes Quebec as a "distinct society" within Canada and there has been wide speculation that if the accord fails, Quebec will begin to consider moving towards independence.

Martin described the Meech Lake debate as "a civil war tearing this country apart."

But the main theme of Martin's Lindsay speech was a much broader look at Canada's future. He said he believes the ultimate direction the country takes will be decided in the next 10 years.

"We will either make it, or follow the course Brian Mulroney has set out and simply give up and become a colony of the United States," said Martin.

"We, as Liberals, have no doubt which course we would choose."

The focus of global relationships is shifting towards economic trade wars measuring one country against another, said Martin. "In this war, Canada has no allies," he said. "We can only rely on ourselves."

Martin suggested politicians should begin talking about a "human deficit" as well as an economic deficit.

Noting Canada's 25 per cent functional illiteracy rate, Martin asked, "How can we face competition with Japan if we are unprepared to fund education."

"What good is solving one part of the problem today, if five years from now we can't compete." He said Canada has to learn to "invest in human beings."

The single greatest cause of social problems such as high crime rates, illiteracy and drug abuse is childhood poverty, said Martin. By cutting social programs, he said the government is "impoverishing this country financially, socially and intellectually."

During an open discussion following Martin's opening speech, Lutterworth councillor Bill Valentine asked for Martin's opinion about the "hundreds of instant Liberals" being created during the leadership campaign.

INSTANT LIBERALS

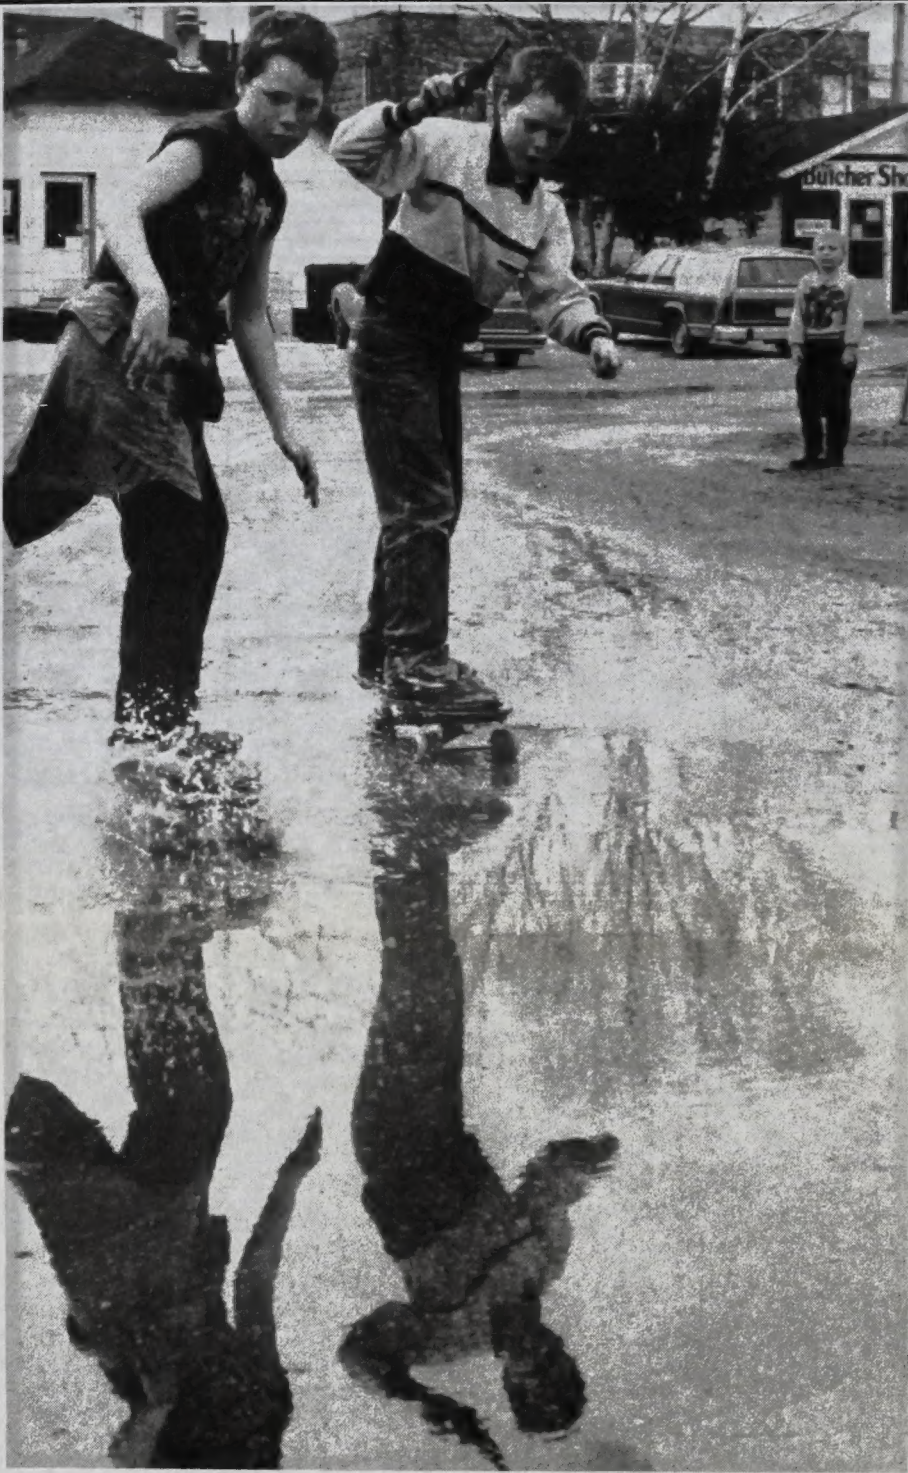

Valentine was referring to an attempt by anti-abortion activists to buy large blocks of party memberships in order to send one-issue, pro-life delegates to the leadership convention.

Martin said elections and leadership campaigns act as magnets, drawing new members into the party and that it would be a mistake to shut that off because it renews the party.

"On the other hand, it's hard to renew with hundreds of instant Liberals who dispossess those members who have been working for the party for years and years," said Martin.

He said attempts to dominate the party for a short time, like the current pro-life campaign, are disruptive to the political process. "I do not approve."

The party must find a balance, said (more on page 6)

Toboggans and sleds were abandoned as kids pulled out their summer RV's to enjoy last week's incredibly warm March break weather. Bicycles and skateboards were the toys of choice in Minden when the spring-like weather transformed the county's mounds of snow into puddles of water. Michael and David Moore were making waves in front of Minden's Municipal Office, surfing through the shallow puddles on their boards.

BOTH WRONG

Commenting on the country's economic situation, Martin touched on the traditional approaches by both the Liberals and the Conservatives.

"The Conservatives deal with the deficit by cutting programs, the Liberals ignore the deficit and maintain programs," said Martin. "It's possible both are wrong."

"We can't ignore the deficit, but need we accept the Conservative's premise that the only way to face the deficit is to cut programs?"

He said cutting programs to save money segregates various economically-disadvantaged groups.

Keep letters brief and to the point

With the flood of lengthy letters to the editor in recent weeks, the time has come that we must establish a policy regarding the length of letter we will accept.

Letters to the editor are a valued part of this newspaper. They are a forum for our readers to express opinions on topics of local concern. They provide us with insight into the feelings of the communities that make up our readership area, and they sometimes give us ideas for stories or editorials.

However, we are finding we simply do not have the space to print the entire text of unduly lengthy letters. For this reason, we are now establishing a policy to limit letters to a maximum of about 300 words, although this is a guideline, not a rule.

Short letters—four to five paragraphs—are by far the most effective at getting a message across. People are more likely to read a brief letter focusing on one topic than a rambling letter that carries on for pages.

As the banner on our Opinion page states, the use of any letter is at the discretion of the editor, who also reserves the right to edit letters to meet space requirements. We have been lenient with this policy the past, but it's clear we can no longer afford to be.

In the future, letters that go beyond 300 words are likely to be pared down to a more reasonable length. If this cannot be accomplished without stealing from the letter's point, it may not be considered for publication.

All letters, whether or not they are published, are valuable to us as a newspaper. If a letter is not published, it may find its way into the hands of the reporter who covered the story or it may be the basis for a new story.

We appreciate receiving letters to the editor and encourage our readers to continue to take advantage of this forum to express their opinions in a concise, focused manner.

All letters must be signed by the writer and a phone number and address should be included for verification.

Everyone should have their own batman

I'm thinking about picking up a batman.

Stand easy, Animal Rightsters! I'm not talking about a pest exterminator and I'm certainly not referring to the winged hero of that recent overhyped movie by the same name. I'm talking about the British version of batman. Back in the days when Old Blighty was an imperial power to be reckoned with, British officers did their duty accompanied by a wee servant chappie whose job it was to make the officer comfortable as possible under the circumstances—brew his tea, make sure his helmet was properly ironed—that sort of thing. The British batman was a kind of front-line valet/maid/cheerleader/mother—Don Quixote had Sancho Panza, the Lone Ranger had Tonto, George Bush has Brian Mulroney...

And I want one of my own.

Let's face it—it's been years since my mother brought me tea or laid out my clothes for school and my Significant Other all but snaps my head off if I even so much as suggest that I deserve to waited on hand, foot and backrub. And the kids? Forget it. Assigning them batman duties would mean a whole new chapter in their allowance contract, not to mention augmented cost of living allotment, retirement benefits and sick pay provisions.

Besides, they'd only be available for a half hour a day—between Cheers and Let's Make a Deal.

Nope, there's not much hope of finding my

The Times welcomes signed letters to the editor on subjects of interest to our readers. Short letters are most likely to be chosen for publication, but the use of any material is at the discretion of the editor. The editor reserves the right to edit letters to meet space requirements, for clarity or to avoid obscenity, libel or invasion of privacy.

Upon request, names may be withheld, but only very rarely and for compelling reasons. Letters published do not necessarily reflect the editorial policies or beliefs of this newspaper. All letters must bear the handwritten signature of the writer and include the address and phone number for verification purposes.

Residents applaud Minden's development by-laws

Editor:

At a recent Council Meeting, a resolution was passed which requires a site plan agreement between the developer and the Township be signed before an re-zoning to Commercial designation can take place. In addition, that same night, a further resolution was passed which gives the municipality control over excavations. I strongly applaud both of these actions.

Over the past 10 years I have seen many developments occur within Minden. In recent years, however, many appear to be less than ideally planned, and speculative in nature. The resolutions recently passed give a strong message to both future developers and the residents of Minden. That message reads, "Minden does not welcome poorly planned development".

If someone is truly serious about land development in Minden, then they can only support this action. As the saying goes, these resolutions will "help separate the wheat from the chaff".

I am proud of this pro-active planning measure taken by my council and can only guess as to the effort and resolve it took to pass.

Requiring a site plan agreement before Commercial land is re-zoned is a great first step. Hopefully, council will recognize the need to include all forms of development in the resolution.

The residents of Minden want both pro-active and long term planning which will provide them with a community they will be proud of 10, 20, and 100 years down the road.

Thank you council for this strong indication of your commitment to pro-active planning.

Wayne Wilson,
Resident of Minden concerned about future growth.

Unemployed spies looking for new vocations batman on the local labour front. I'll have to look overseas.

Fortunately, my timing couldn't be better. Right now, there's an absolute glut of people with batman (let's be fair: batperson) potential flooding the European market.

Needy people. Desperate people. Trained and clever and available people.

Spies.

Well, ex-spies, really. The recent political convulsions over there have left millions of East Europeans in turmoil, most of them euphoric, but many of them...less so.

Before the Big Thaw, hundreds of thousands of folks behind the Iron Curtain earned their daily bread in that time-honoured, traditional communist way—by spying and informing on their friends and neighbours. Gorby and his infernal Glasnot wiped out that lucrative way of life practically overnight.

Today, the streets of every back European hamlet from Aachen, Germany to Zagreb, Yugoslavia are clogged with nervous, weaselly-looking men and women in shabby trenchcoats and dark glasses, crouched in dark doorways or hunched over cafe tables, eagerly begging for the chance to sell one tiny secret, whisper one unsubstantial rumour, betray one minor relative—anything to keep their professional dignity intact.

And there are lots of them. East Germany alone had 85,000 agents and 109,000 regular informants. This in a country with a population slightly more than half of Canada's.

In the other ex-soviet satellites it's the same story. Thousands of hardworking turncoats sacked without so much as a letter of recommendation. But it's not all bleak. Think of the talents these ex-spies could bring to the job of batman.

Locked myself out of the house? These guys could slip the front door deadbolt with a forged credit card quicker than you can say Kim Philby. Car won't start? Any half decent spy could hotwire my Toyota blindfolded before tea.

Oh, it'll be grand, having my very own ex-secret-agent-cum-batman. Great family portraits of course—after all, these guys cut their photographic teeth on microfilm and infra red, shooting top-secret documents on cameras small enough to hide up your nose. Great cocktails (Remember Bond? "A martini...extra dry...shaken, not stirred.") Great after-dinner gossip too. "Why I remember the time that Kruschev asked my advice about Castro. 'Nick, sweetheart,' I said, 'the guy's a bush hippy. Cut 'im loose'..."

Oh, I can hardly wait. I want my ex-undercover batman now. Send one over, Europe—I'll be waiting. On the third bench in from the main park entrance. I'll be wearing a single earring, reading a copy of Macleans upside down and whistling the Third Man Theme.

Off key.

Trade deal should be renegotiated, Martin tells fellow liberals

Martin, by bringing in new Liberals with an ethic that after the leadership convention they will continue to fully participate in the process.

Martin was asked to tell what he would do about the Free Trade agreement with the United States if he is given the chance to form the next government.

He opened his remarks by saying Canadians must be "free traders" in order to compete in the world economy. He said free trade doesn't mean access to just the American market. "I support the rationale of free trade, not as a cocoon, but as a spring board into other markets."

"The problem is not Free Trade," said Martin. "The problem is Brian Mulroney's lousy negotiating." He called the existing agreement the "death knell" to the Canadian economy.

If he was Prime Minister, Martin said he would renegotiate the deal, focusing on five specific problems.

Mulroney's biggest mistake, said Martin, is he gave away all of Canada's trade concessions up front and got nothing in return. He said in order to work the deal must protect Canadian companies from American ownership, and protection must be in place for Canadian agriculture and natural gas from the Beaufort Sea.

He also wants a declaration from the Americans that Canada's water is not part of the bargain.

TRADE WARS

"If we solve these problems then we can solve our regional development problems," said Martin. "If not, it will mean unilateral disarmament in the trade wars."

If the Americans refused to renegotiate, Martin said he would walk away from the deal. "Brian Mulroney gave up, that's why we got blackmailed into an agreement," he said.

Although he admitted the fate of the Meech Lake Accord is out of the hands of the new Liberal leader, Martin said he supports the notion of a parallel accord to satisfy the concerns of critics.

The parallel accord would address issues such as minority rights and senate form, issues critic says must be addressed before the Meech Lake Accord can be allowed to pass.

Martin said he called for a parallel accord a year ago and still believes this is the answer to the impasse. He said the problem with Meech Lake is not so much what Quebec wants but rather what the rest of Canada doesn't want.

He criticized leadership rival Jean Cretien for his recent comment that failure of Meech will cause no problems.

"We are going to be in major difficulties if Meech Lake fails," said Martin. "Unless we resolve the constitutional crisis, in another five years we won't have a country."

Instead of trying to buy Quebec off with concessions, Martin said Canada should invite the province to come and help build a country. "Trying to buy someone off is damned insulting," he said.

Even though the deadline for the passage of Meech is less than 100 days away, Martin said he believes there is time to strike a parallel accord "with an enormous amount of goodwill and national leadership."

Martin is the second leadership candidate to solicit the support of local Liberals. Several months ago, Sheila Copps was in Lindsay giving a similar pitch.

The Victoria-Haliburton Federal Liberal Association is meeting on April 17 to choose 12 delegates for the June convention.

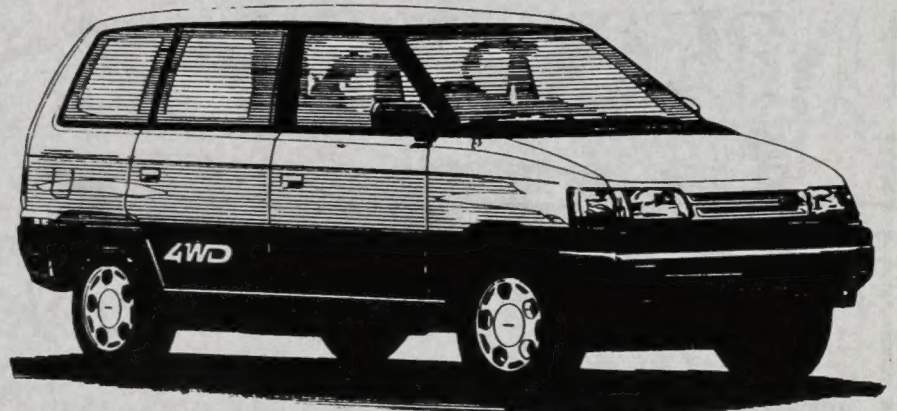

MEETING WITH MARTIN: Liberal leadership candidate Paul Martin Jr. met with members of the Victoria-Haliburton Federal Liberal Association as he stopped in Lindsay last Thursday to solicit support for his campaign.

Ministry addresses mapping inaccuracies

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

The Ministry of Natural Resources has provided direction for Minden's Planning Advisory Committee in dealing with inaccurate Hazard Land zoning.

In a letter to the township the ministry's district manager Jim Baker says the MNR does not require an official plan amendment every time a Hazard Land zone is altered.

The province requires that every municipality recognize flood-prone property and restrict development in those areas.

Because much of Minden's hazard land mapping is based on aerial photographs, several instances of mapping inaccuracies have turned up. Some property designated as Hazard Land in the township's official plan and zoning by-law is actually not prone to flooding at all.

A property owner can have his land rezoned if an on-site inspection reveals that Hazard Land designation is unwarranted, but he must also get an official plan amendment, a costly and time-consuming procedure.

The planning committee has been struggling with the fact that land-owners are forced to bear the cost of correcting an error based on inaccurate mapping.

In his letter Baker says the ministry would "support an action to remove the requirement for an official plan amendment when a minor line change is required." The property owner would still have to have the land rezoned.

In order to have a Hazard Land designation changed, an on-site inspection of the property must take place. Baker says the ministry "will attempt to carry out these site inspections for individual property owners and minor developments, and provide a revised floodline."

After reading Baker's letter, some planning committee members still felt the subject was too open for interpretation.

"What the hell is a 'minor line change'," asked Dean Elliot.

Jim Garbutt said the ministry is still requiring a rezoning, but it's up to council whether or not an official plan amendment is required. He said he didn't think the floodline could be moved a quarter-of-a-mile without an amendment and it could only be done if the hazard land was a matter of interpretation.

Building Official Tom Hubercheck outlined some of the inequalities that presently exist due to mapping errors.

He gave the example of two neighbouring properties, one high and dry the other low lying and prone to flooding. If the higher property is designated Hazard Land, the owner can't build without a rezoning and official plan amendment.

But if the flood-prone property has not been zoned Hazard Land, the owner can fill the property and build without going through either process. Placement of fill is restricted by the ministry in Hazard Land areas.

Garbutt suggested that the township could grant severances for Hazard Land as long as they inform the land owners that they won't be able to get a building permit.

But Deputy-Reeve Bern Berry said there wasn't much point in putting property owners through the expense of a severance application if they weren't going to be allowed to build.

Elliot said there was little that can be done to change the process until Minden's official plan is changed to allow minor Hazard Land changes without an official plan amendment. "It's the law," he said. "Until it's revised we're stuck with it."

Lewis Stevens said the township should ensure that inspections are carried out on Hazard Land applications in order to catch any mapping errors.

Bill Payne said he hopes council would take a "good look" at the present policy and consider changing the official plan.

At last Wednesday's meeting the planning committee considered a severance application for a property designated Hazard Land located on Bobcaygeon Road near the Queen's Line. They approved the severance subject to a rezoning, official plan amendment and an on-site inspection by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Stanhope backs the call for affordable housing

Stanhope Township is supporting the effort to persuade the federal government to restore its commitment to providing more non-profit housing.

Council endorsed a resolution from Toronto City Council last Wednesday calling on the federal government to reinstate the full funding and number of unit allocations under the federal/provincial Non-Profit Housing Program.

The resolution also calls on the province to carry on with its Homes Now initiative with a similar commitment in this year's budget.

A recent study has demonstrated a need for almost 60 units of affordable housing in Haliburton County. Cutbacks in federal spending in this regard could jeopardize the chances of these ever materializing.

Township Administrator Gerald Bain told council that Haliburton County is in the same district as Toronto for housing allotments. With this in mind, the odds of Haliburton getting the units it needs are low. The government's withdrawal of support for this need just makes matters worse, said Bain.

The resolution supported by Stanhope Council says the federal government has "almost completely abandoned its once-pre-eminent role in funding and facilitating the creation of new housing." Funding for the federal Co-operative Housing Program—the only social housing program still provided by the government—hit an 11-year low in 1989. This is having a "devastating impact on non-profit housing production across the country," the resolution says.

Stanhope sets dump user fee

Stanhope Township has established a $25 annual fee for non residents who wish to use its dumps.

Stanhope Councillor Fred Gardiner explained last Wednesday that every ratepayer in the municipality contributes $25 through their taxes to the maintenance of landfill sites. He said it is only fair that non-residents using the sites should pay that amount.

Stanhope has established a card system for its dumps. Anyone wishing to use the sites must show the card to the attendant before they are allowed to unload their garbage. The $25 fee will provide non residents with a card.

Gardiner originally suggested that commercial users should pay $100 for a dump card because they are likely to be depositing more waste than a residential user.

Carnarvon Lumber was cited as an example of one commercial user from outside the township that might use Stanhope's dumps.

Councillor Eleanor Harrison declared a pecuniary interest in this matter because of her involvement with Carnarvon Lumber.

Councillor Murray Daniels argued against the establishment of a user fee. He said there are some Stanhope residents who use Minden's landfill sites. As long

Minden struggles to collect unpaid taxes

If taxes on a piece of 'improved' property are unpaid for a period of three years, the municipality can register the property. After 280 days from the date of registration, if the taxes are still unpaid, the municipality must then have the property sold and recover the money owed to it.

If there is any money left over after the municipality has been paid the back taxes, interest and all expenses, the property owner can then apply to the courts for it.

Improved property is property that has been built on, or farmland. The waiting period to register vacant land is two years instead of three.

Minden is currently going after $131,871 in back taxes using this method. During the next couple of weeks, 19 properties will be registered because taxes have not been paid on them.

The township also registered a number of properties last year, and the 280 day period expires in late fall. After that, if taxes haven't been paid, the property will be sold by either public auction or public tender.

For most of the properties, the taxes owed range between $150 and $6,000, but there are tax bills as high as $10,000 and the largest amount owed is more than $20,000.

The registration process only applies to unpaid property taxes. In order to recover money from unpaid business taxes, the municipality has to take the business owner to court.

Businesses are charged a business tax equal to 30 per cent of their mill rate. The township starts trying to recover unpaid businesses taxes if they are unpaid for one year.

If the amount owed is less than $1,000 the township takes the business owner to small claims court. On amounts of more than $1,000 more formal legal avenues must be pursued.

To the end of December, Minden was owed $12,000 in unpaid business taxes.

Moore says he doesn't think the back taxes is unrecoverable. He says it's just a matter of "astute" business people who would rather pay the 15 per cent penalty than a 18 to 24 per cent overdraft charge at the bank.

He says it's only a small percentage of property owners who don't pay their tax on time, and Minden's situation is not unusual.

"We'll always have this trouble from time to time," says Moore. "It's normal every township can run into this problem."

He says the money will be collected eventually, either through the registration process or if the owner sells the property on his own.

Recognizing that tax registration is a time-consuming task, the reeve said the municipality might have to create a full-time position for someone to pursue all the incidents of unpaid taxes. But creating a municipal tax department would be a cost borne by the whole municipality, says Moore.

As far as unpaid business taxes go, Moore says there is more of a risk that the township will never see the money.

If a business closes up and moves out of the township, Moore says it's almost impossible to collect any business tax that's owed.

Moore said he would consider making payment of business taxes a condition of renewing municipal business licences.

Community policing is coming to Haliburton

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Haliburton village is one step closer to having a full-time community-based police officer on the beat.

A new member of the Minden OPP detachment has been given the responsibility of co-ordinating the community policing program in Haliburton County.

Sergeant Doug Bernardi transferred to Minden from Lindsay at the end of February, and spent his first week here attending a course on community policing held in Brampton.

Bernardi says he attended the course, along with three other officers from the Peterborough District, in order to "get insight into the overall picture."

The course included a presentation by representatives from Flint, Michigan, where community policing has been in practice for some time. Bernardi says they heard about some of the stumbling blocks the program had to overcome in Flint, and what it took to get the idea rolling.

Community policing is a return to a more traditional style of law enforcement. Individual communities are assigned a particular officer, who concentrates on the policing needs of that area.

It has been described as a "beat-cop" approach that allows close contact between the police and members of the community. It is being tested in several areas in Ontario and has been met with encouraging results.

In some areas, community policing has resulted in a 70 per cent decrease in the crime rate.

The program demands active community involvement in law enforcement concerns. If a community is selected for community policing, a Police Affairs Committee is established.

The committee consists of members of the community and the officer selected to work in that area. Together they identify specific problems and decide how and where the officer will concentrate his efforts.

Interest in community policing for Haliburton village was prompted by Dysart Council which was concerned about the level of protection being received from the OPP.

Bernardi says he and the other co-ordinators in the district will be meeting to formalize a solid plan that will then be adapted to the needs of the individual communities.

He says the philosophy is being adopted in "big waves" across the province and the OPP is "really sold on it." Community policing is going to happen, says Bernardi, it's just a question of timing to implement the different facets of the program.

Misfits take MNR 'B' championship

The Minden MNR Hockey Team hosted the 11th Annual Ministry of Natural Resources Algonquin Regional Hockey Tournament at the Minden Community Centre on March 10.

Teams from Bancroft, Bracebridge, Parry Sound, Huntsville and Lindsay participated in this one-day event. Teams played three games with the opportunity to win one of three divisions.

The Minden Team, with a 5-3 win against Bancroft, and a 2-2 tie against Lindsay, extended their non-losing streak to eight games (7 wins, 1 tie) and qualified them for the "B" Divisional Final against the defending champion Bracebridge Team.

An early goal from Marcel DeMars gave Minden the lead. However Bracebridge would get the equalizer forcing a sudden-death overtime period. With two minutes remaining in overtime, and Minden on a powerplay, Brant Jones slid the puck behind a sprawling Bracebridge goaltender, honouring the Minden team with the "B" Championship for the first time since 1981. Unfortunately for Brant, no MVP awards were given so he was temporarily unable to complete his set of gold-rimmed beer glasses.

Other divisional play saw Huntsville take the "A" Championship from the defending champion Parry Sound team with a 2-1 win, and Bancroft took the "C" championship with a 3-2 win over Lindsay.

The MNR Hockey team would like to thank Jim Ellis, Wayne Wilson, Dave Johnson and sons, and Bob Barkley for volunteering their time to operate the scoreboard throughout the tournament. Their efforts were very much appreciated.

Minden will be represented in future play at the Lindsay District Tournament on March 24, and at the Provincial MNR Hockey Tournament in Sudbury on April 5, 6 and 7.

Breezeway is no escape from by-law

A Lutterworth family may have to move its garage if it wants to continue to use it as a residence.

The township's planner has rejected a proposal to link a converted garage to a house with a breezeway in order to circumvent a local by-law. If the owners want to continue to use the garage as a residence, they must connect it directly to the house.

Fee does not apply to contractors

as the neighbouring municipalities are not charging a fee, he said Stanhope should not be. He said their is good co-operation between municipalities in this regard.

Daniels suggested that Reeve Harry Davis should bring the matter up at County Council to find out what other municipalities feel about it.

The new user fee does not apply to contractors, who will be allowed to use the landfill sites at no cost. It was felt that contractors from outside the municipality should be allowed access to the dumps, since the material they are depositing is likely to be originating from a residence or business within the municipality.

Home edges Hartwick, advances to finals

Organizers struck a near perfect balance when selecting the teams for the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League, a balance that sparked brisk competition right up until the final game of the preliminary playoffs.

Westside Jug City, the club deemed least likely to succeed, locked up its right to advance to the finals by leading the pack throughout the preliminary playoffs.

Deciding the other team to advance, though, wasn't as clear cut. Hartwick Construction and Home Hardware tied for second place in round-robin play and the decision had to be based on goals scored in this series. Home racked up 32 goals in their five games to earn the right to meet Westside in the finals. Hartwick had only 28 goals to their credit.

The close competition in the playoffs is typical of play all season long. Throughout the regular schedule, four teams fought it out in a close battle for second place behind Stamp Fuels and ahead of Westside.

The close competition all came to a head last Monday. The six teams faced off for their final round-robin games and four still had a shot at advancing.

Westside clinched its berth in the finals with a 4-2 win over Hartwick. Home moved into contention with a 10-5 win over Stamp Fuels. And The Times edged the Rockcliffe Tavern 6-5 in what was little more than a consolation match.

The big game was the final between Hartwick and Westside. Hartwick took the lead in the first period and held off their opponents through the second. However, Westside came back in the third with three goals to earn the win.

Bernie Upton scored three of Westside's goals while Ben Manuge added the fourth. Kevin Hamilton scored both of Hartwick's goals.

The opening game of the night saw Home thump Stamp Fuels 10-5, with a lot of help from Scott Hamilton. Hamilton accounted for six of Home's goals, while Barry Boice put in the other four.

Stamp's goals came from Craig Crowe (2), Greg Newell, Jim Crawford and Louis Reynolds.

Ivan Ingram finished out his season with The Times on a positive note, chipping in three goals to lead his team to the 6-5 win. Eldon Bull and Andy McKenzie added one each to the Times' tally. Rockcliffe goals came from Doug Ray (2), Dave Hartwick, Ken Barry and Ken Casey.

The first game of the best-of-three finals is scheduled for 8 p.m. tonight at the Minden arena.

Help design HCBA logo

The Haliburton County Baseball Association is sponsoring a contest to design a crest for the new softball league.

Kevin Smith, who has been working to establish a minor baseball league for the area, says the crest should include either name or initials of the association. The person who submits the winning entry will receive a shirt and hat bearing this new crest.

The HCBA is a newly formed organization, striving to bring minor baseball to the county. Initially, it was to be a Minden league, but Smith said there has been a strong interest shown in minor baseball from all parts of the county. Therefore, it was decided the new league should be county wide.

An organizational meeting was held on March 11 at the Lochlin schoolhouse. About 15 people turned out to this meeting to offer their help in coaching or officiating.

Encouraged by this strong response, organizers are planning another general meeting for April 1, also at the Lochlin Schoolhouse. This meeting is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Anyone interested in helping out this summer is encouraged to come out to the meeting or to contact Smith at 286-3680 or Kim Collis at 286-3492.

Entries for the logo contest should be submitted to Kevin Smith, Box 26, Minden.

Ladies auxiliary donates $1,000 to Club 35 fund

Late in 1989 the ladies of Club 35 formed an auxiliary.

Through hard work and dedication, they have raised $1000 for the Club 35 building fund, which now stands at $24,555.

Pot luck suppers, silent

The auxiliary has many activities planned for 1990.

Camp Fund seeks donations

Think summer! Warm, sunny days, swimming, canoeing, kayaking, rock climbing, meeting new friends, and singing around the camp fire—this described the experience of the many children who attend summer camp.

The Victoria-Haliburton Summer Camp Fund is once again raising funds to sponsor children to experience just such a camp program. Children who would otherwise not be able to afford to attend camp are eligible for sponsorship.

Last year, thanks to local donations, 34 children from across Haliburton County went to camp. The number of children who benefit each year depends on the amount of money raised. $16,893 was raised last year, with $5,350 raised in Haliburton County alone. The average cost for a child to attend camp is about $200. Specialized camp programs for children with special needs are more expensive, for example $400 to $600.

A donation can ensure that a Haliburton County child has the opportunity to enjoy a camp program. For many children, this is the highlight of the summer. The Victoria-Haliburton Summer Camp Fund is a registered charity.

If you have any questions about the camp fund, please call 457-1888, from 8:30 to 4:30 p.m. Thank you.

Last week's warm weather was like a brief preview of spring. Area kids were out on their bike, cruising through the huge puddles left by the melting snow. Michael Burley, Kevin Brezina and Chuck Hopkins were among the many young cyclists to make a splash during the March school break.

Atoms end season with a bang

by Linda Hopkins

The Atom Tri County season is over for another year and certainly finished with a bang. After successfully defeating Bobcaygeon in the best 3 out of 5, Minden advanced to play 2 out of 3 against the most congenial team in the league—Beaverton!

The first game was played in Beaverton and Minden came home with a 1-0 victory. It's very hard to do much with the puck when the goalie drops down it everytime it gets close; however, Sheamus Donnelly drove one past him and took the mark for Minden. This brought the second game home to Minden and the boys maintained a 1-0 score until late in the game when Beaverton tied the score. Claude was referee during the game and he told the Beaverton goalie to play the puck or take a 2 minute delay of game.

Well, we're off again to Beaverton (can't get enough) for the third game and this time Beaverton stepped up the pace a bit and played a little more aggressive. This time the goalie had no trouble dropping on the puck and stopping the play. Some of their shots would have been beauties on the golf course; however, this seems to be their style of hockey. Well, the boys lost this game and forced another at Minden to break the tie and decide the winner. The winner would go on to meet another team and the losers were finished for the year and could retreat to the dressing room to lament.

This fourth and final game could be described as any number of things. Just to set the record straight for starters, in all games against Beaverton this year, they have received four times as many penalties as Minden.

It's ice time, the Zamboni has been put away and the door closed. Two people step onto the ice wearing black and white striped shirts, armed with whistles and absolutely nothing else. The puck was dropped and the play began and from there on until the last period was over, it was anybody's guess what would be called against Minden. For starters, Beaverton's goalie had his elastic tightened and he was certainly the reason for their success. This boy played a stand up game, almost as if there were somebody else in net and very seldom dropped on the puck. These two out there with the whistles wouldn't have called it anyways.

Minden's Gavin Gartshore was nailed behind Beaverton's net and three players jumped on him and started roughing. Gavin gets a penalty and three game misconducts. After serious discussion at the time box, two Beaverton players received minors. One of their efforts failed though when two players came after Rob Camelon for a sandwich and Rob stepped aside. Result - mid air collision and two Beaverton players laying side by side on the ice writhing. Now remember - this is Atom division and there's no body-contact. Nobody was seriously hurt in this attempt, but it was funny.

All in all, the whole game was a farce and these are just a couple of examples of bad hockey. Minden received nine penalties in this game with Donald Todd taking four of them. Seems they waited for Donald to step on the ice and looked for any cheap reason to blow that whistle and send him back to the box. Out of the nine called, less than half were legitimate. I guess it was one of those games where you had to lie there to see for yourself. Hopefully the two out on the ice with whistles will either drop out or attend summer school to finish learning the rule book.

This could have been a good game had Beaverton left the aggression out of it and had there been an intel-

Minden Novices are hot in local playoff action

by Janet Horsley

Well, the Minden Novice "C's" have made it into the playoffs now, so we'll have some hot games to tell you about.

Our first playoff game was against Cannington. The teams played well and they both knew that this game was important. Minden didn't seem to have a problem at all. They passed the puck well and the whole team played as a unit proving that to win a game, it takes the whole team. The score at the end of the game was 5-0 Minden, giving us the first win.

Goals made by Minden: Paul Daniels, assisted by Shane Walker, Anthony Weerdenberg, unassisted, Billy Fountain, assisted by Josh Shaw, Josh Shaw, assisted by Ryan White, Josh Shaw, assisted by Billy Fountain and Gary Kernohan.

That's the way to play Minden.

The second game was in Minden, and for Cannington to stay in they had to win this game. But unfortunately Minden played just as well or better, beating Cannington 4-0. So now Minden will be playing for the championship with Bobcaygeon.

Goals made by Minden: Anthony Weerdenberg, unassisted, Jason Horsley, unassisted, Josh Shaw, assisted by Trevor Cole and Jason Horsley, Gary Kernohan, assisted by Anthony Weerdenberg.

Our next game was on Tuesday, March 13 against Bobcaygeon for the Championship Trophy.

Minden tried hard but was unable to keep Bobcaygeon from scoring. Minden just seemed to be having an off day, because they certainly didn't play like they had been. But don't worry because we'll beat them next time (I hope).

The final score was 4-0 Bobcaygeon.

Come on Minden, we can do it.

Minden Tykes capture consolation gold

by Janet Horsley

On March 11, Minden Tykes were invited to Bobcaygeon for a tournament, and what a tournament it was.

Our first game was at 10 a.m. against Uxbridge. The little guys skated hard the whole game, but were unable to win the game. The final score was 6-2 Uxbridge.

Goals made by Minden: Josh Shaw, unassisted, Danny Nielson, unassisted.

Our next game was against Omeme.

In the dressing room the coaches made sure the kids knew that if they wanted to get a trophy to take home, they would have to win this game.

Those little guys went out there and they played so hard, it was great. I've never seen them play so good, and in the end they won the game with a score of 8-2, taking them to the consolation game.

Goals made by Minden: Danny Nielson, Josh Shaw with six, one assisted by Jonathon Horsley, and Adam Tomlinson, unassisted.

Well, we made it to the consolation game and the boys were excited. They played this game with as much heart as they played the last, maybe more.

The game was against Woodville. Woodville tried hard to win, but the Minden boys could smell that trophy and they weren't going to let it get out of their reach. Minden won the game with a score of 9-5. Nice game guys.

Goals made by Minden: Danny Nielson, assisted by Adam Tomlinson, Josh Shaw assisted by Danny Nielson, Josh Shaw, unassisted, Danny Nielson, assisted by Ashely Pettis and Ryan Cole, Adam Tomlinson, assisted by Jamie Collis, Josh Shaw, unassisted, Danny Nielson, assisted by Caleb Loughheed, Jonathon Horsley, assisted by Josh Shaw, and Josh Shaw, unassisted.

We would also like to thank Bobcaygeon for the wonderful tournament they put on, the boys really enjoyed themselves, thanks.

Referees non existent in Atoms' tournament clash with Beaverton lignant referee on the ice. Needless to say, Beaverton walked away with a 4-0 victory and hopefully on to meet a team who can show them defeat. About the losers retiring to the dressing room to lament—the atmosphere was very jovial in Minden's room as the boys knew they played a good game, they knew the refereeing was non-existent yet they saw the humour in it and had some great chuckles especially about some of the penalty calls.

All year the boys have played well and we have been very proud of them in any arena but this was one game that really was won by a goalie as there was not another player on the ice wearing Beaverton's colours to be proud of.

Thanks Ashley, Nathan, Chuck, Adam, Raymond, Gavin, Sheamus, Rob, Donald and Ben for your efforts throughout the year, we're all proud of you. Thanks Jim and Paul for your time and efforts with the boys and all the parents for regular attendance and support. It's time now for Dave and I retire our pens for another season. Until the fall—

Just moving towards making things easier for you!

Health committee unlikely to meet deadline

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Confronted with a large workload, the steering committee studying Haliburton County's long-term health needs has realized it won't meet its initial June completion date.

At last Friday's meeting the committee reviewed the work it had already done and assessed the tasks that still need to be completed.

Chairman Maureen Dikun said that the committee has maintained all along that it wants to do the job well, and will take what ever time is needed to complete the process. Although setting June as a completion date was optimistic, Dikun said the committee isn't that far off the target.

Dikun said the members spent much of last Friday, the committee's sixth meeting, "taking a look at where we came from, where we are and where we are going."

So far the committee members have been involved in educating themselves about health care services and the various options that exist, both within Haliburton County and in other parts of the province.

Health planning analyst Anne Gallant said the committee members want to continue that process and that "there's a tremendous amount of information to absorb."

"For the committee to make informed decisions it's really necessary to get all the information," said Dikun.

The committee consisting of health service professionals and area residents, was formed to study the county's long-term health, social services and housing needs. Once the study is complete the committee will draft recommendations for improving those areas.

Among other things, the recommendations will affect the fate of the 18-bed chronic care facility for the Haliburton Hospital. The Ministry of Health initially approved the addition but has since frozen the funding until completion of the health care study.

Phase one of the process, the study itself, is being funded by the Ministry of Health. Phase two, implementation of the committee's recommendations, will be funded by the Ministry of Social and Community Services.

In discussing future initiatives, the committee talked about setting up sub-committees to deal with a lot of the detailed "house-keeping" tasks, said Gallant.

The committee decided on the mandates of two of the sub-committees. One will deal with public involvement in the study by planning an open house and public submissions, the other will tackle data analysis.

Membership for the sub-committees will be drawn from the people serving on the main committee, who will then report back on their findings.

As far as plans for the public information session, or open house as it's being called, Dikun says the committee decided to hold it before asking for written submissions from the public.

The open-house will be set-up like a "health fair" said Dikun, with members of the committee and resource people designing a collection of displays each dealing with a specific topic the committee has dealt with.

The public will be invited to study the displays and ask committee members questions relating to the information.

Gallant says the intent of the open-house is to give the public access to the information the committee has been studying over the last several months. There will also be information about the changes in long-term health care taking place in Ontario, and some of the options available for providing services.

By holding the open-house first, Dikun said she hopes it will help people with their written submissions to the committee. The submissions are designed to let the public tell the committee what is needed in the county with regards to health and social services.

"The submissions will stimulate more activity around the table and provide us with answers so we can continue our process," said Dikun. "Every person should have the opportunity to have something to say."

On Friday the committee also heard a presentation from Lyn Linton, Director of the local Victorian Order of Nurses on adult day centres.

The committee's next meeting will be held on April 10.

YOUR 1989 INCOME TAX RETURN

WHERE CAN I GO FOR HELP WITH MY TAX RETURN?

At tax time, many people have questions about how to complete their return and what information slips to include.

The first place to look for answers is the General Tax Guide that comes with your return. It gives you step-by-step instructions, and helpful tax tips. But if you still have questions, Revenue Canada offers a variety of services to help you.

WHAT KIND OF SERVICES ARE AVAILABLE?

Revenue Canada offers phone enquiry services with extended hours during the peak tax return weeks. Check the back pages in your General Guide for numbers and hours in your region. For people who require special assistance, there's a program in which volunteers, trained by Revenue Canada personnel, help those who can't leave their home. There's a special toll-free number listed in the General Guide for people with hearing disabilities, using a Telephone Device for the Deaf, and there are audio and large print guides for those who require them.

WHAT GUIDES DO I NEED?

Revenue Canada produces a variety of special guides for people with different income situations. There's an employment expenses guide, a guide for pensions and one for new Canadians, to name a few. Check the list in your General Guide. If there's one you need, contact your District Taxation Office or call the special "request for forms" number listed there.

PEOPLE WITH QUESTIONS

WHY SHOULD I FILL OUT THE GREEN FORM?

The proposed Goods & Services Tax, now before Parliament, has two main objectives: to make Canada more competitive and to improve the fairness of the tax system for all Canadians. The plan includes a new credit to offset part or all of the tax for lower or modest income households. To find out if you qualify, fill out the green form that comes with your 1989 tax package. Even if you don't have to pay income tax, it's important that you send in the green form. If you qualify for the Goods & Services Tax Credit, you could receive credit cheques every three months, starting this December 1990.

WHAT IF I HAVE QUESTIONS?

Check your General Tax Guide. It has most of the answers you'll need. If you still have questions, contact your local District Taxation Office by phone or in person, and talk to the people at Revenue Canada Taxation. They're People with Answers.

They are bright - and so
Inquisitive
About things they cannot see.
For answers we cannot tell -
But only God in infinity
Can answer very well.
I cannot always see them
With eyes now growing dim,
But I know He watches over them
For they are close to Him.
The old, old, world goes whirling by
Its axis do not bend
But only God can answer a puzzling question
From my dear little friend
Who ask in all humility
Oh where does the blue sky end?

Yvonne

The following letter was received by Kimberly Guida, aged 6, grand-daughter of Yvonne Guida, from the Nassau District PTA New York State REFLECTIONS Program.

Dear Kimberly:

Congratulations! You have been chosen to represent Nassau District PTA in the New York State REFLECTIONS program competition.

Your work was selected from among 750 entries for its originality and interpretation of the theme "Where Does the Sky End?" Our judges were professionals whose expertise in your category, combined with experience with student works, provided a very sophisticated atmosphere for selection.

Nassau District PTA wishes you much success in the future and recognizes, with pride, your contribution to the cultural future of Nassau County.

You have proven that the answer to the question "Where Does the Sky End?" is the limitless boundaries of your imagination.

Sincerely,
Nancy Thaler
REFLECTIONS Chairman

Move the building or vacate

The township's by-laws prohibit the existence of more than one residential unit on a lot.

Lutterworth resident John Lynch had previously asked council for a minor variance that would allow him to continue to use his converted garage as a residence. Although a minor variance was out of the question, council had suggested he might be able to get around the restrictive by-law by linking the two buildings on the property with a breezeway.

However, it was later discovered that the garage is more than 40 feet away from the house. And last Thursday, was advised in a letter from its planner that a breezeway connection will not solve the matter.

By-law officer Ernie Roy-lance said the only way to allow the garage to be used as a residence is to move it and make it a permanent addition to the house. Otherwise, he said Lynch will have to vacate the building and turn it back into a garage, which he said the building was designed to be.

It was great to welcome home our neighbour Isabel Cherwenka who had been visiting with her family and friends in Toronto and area.

Lloyd and Velma Stiver spend a very enjoyable month in St. Petersburg, in spite of the fact that Lloyd fell on the ice and broke his arm just before they were to leave. So glad everything went well for you.

Staanworth Terrace residents survived a stormy February and have been busy making plans for our fiscal year ending March 1, 1991.

At our first annual meeting we elected our executive: Pres. - Elsie Bursey; 1st V.P. - Al Stott; 2nd V.P. - Alex Stephenson; Tres. - Jean Sears; Sec. - Alex Stephenson and also eight board members.

Our Pot Luck suppers have been very enjoyable and will be continued every month. We celebrate birthdays each month.

Jessie Preston has donated a 30 cup coffee urn which will be appreciated very much. Her son has offered to donate a birthday cake every month for our Pot Lucks. We will certainly enjoy the Preston family's thoughtfulness.

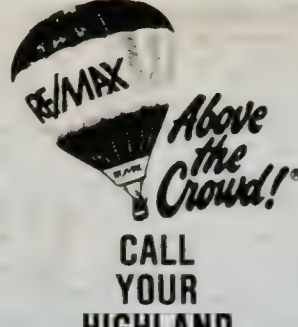

We welcome back our genial coffee hour host last friday morning. He had a serious bout with pneumonia in February.

All seniors are welcome to our card games. Cribbage games are played Fridays at 1:30 p.m. Euchre is Monday at 7 p.m.

Officials deserve credit

Editor:

I do hope that our Deputy Reeve, Bern Berry; and the P.A.C. members, Dean Elliott and Bill Payne, do not take to heart the recent criticisms of their fulfilling their duties as they see fit. We need men like these three officials, who are genuinely trying to benefit our town and do the jobs they were elected or assigned to do.

Plaudits should be extended these gentlemen, not sarcasm.

Do not resign, gentlemen, we need you.

Velma Stiver,
Minden.

Outraged at new by-laws

NOTE: The following letter is addressed to the Council of the Townships of Anson, Hindon & Minden.

Gentlemen:

As a Registered Real Estate Salesman and a "developer" I am outraged that this Council is contemplating a By-Law to impede the development of Commercial properties. To demand that a business person (yes, Property Development is a business, and yes, Developers are human) engage in the time consuming and expensive process of entering into a Site Plan Agreement that will affect site specific development forever, prior to rezoning, is a short-sighted and regressive measure.

It is my personal opinion that this By-Law would not even have been given second thought, had not the childish squabble between Deputy-Reeve Berry and Mr. Bradamore been dragged into the sanctity of Council Chambers. If they are reluctant to "duke it out in the Schoolyard" or resolve the matter in a Court of Law, they should not be allowed to tarnish the reputation of this Council and this Municipality. For Deputy-Reeve Berry to use the power of his office to impede any individual for personal reasons, and then force innocent others to abide by the outcome is a travesty of the democratic process.

In regards to Mr. Bradamore's feelings regarding the PAC members and possible conflict of interest, it is again, my personal opinion, that these gentlemen do have a direct and clear conflict of interest. It is about time we all return to the moral and ethical code of our forefathers and start acting according to the spirit of the law as opposed to the letter of the law.

The next decade is going to see a rapid growth in our community, both in quantity and quality of our lives. We must make certain that this growth is achieved in an orderly and controlled manner, free of petty jealousies and for the betterment of all.

Yours truly,
John Stainton,
Minden.

Set priorities straight, 'unshackle' the illiterate

Editor:

In your recent issues, I find a striking and disturbing paradox.

On the one hand, we see $46 million spent in Ontario to convert road signs to French. We see countless millions of taxpayers' money available and waiting to absorb all Canadians into a French speaking society.

On the other hand, we see a lady in Haliburton County in a mediocre office working with a puny little grant and a group of unpaid volunteers trying to stamp out the shameful 24 per cent illiteracy problem in our County.

One wonders how many highway and industrial accidents have been caused because these people can't read English let alone French.

The law of supply and demand will force Canadians to speak French, English, or any other language as did my Pennsylvania Dutch ancestors who were the first white people to settle in Haliburton County. Seven generations later, their descendants speak various languages for various reasons.

I congratulate our municipal and county leaders who are telling our provincial and federal hierarchy that enough is enough. Let's set our priorities straight and unshackle the 24 per cent of the citizens of Haliburton County so that they can read and write one language before we further frustrate them by forcing a second one on them.

Mabel Brannigan

NOTE: The rate of illiteracy noted is a national figure. It is probably higher than 24 per cent in Haliburton County.

GST will have dramatic impact on bereaved

NOTE: The following letter is addressed to Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott.

For years we have been paying federal sales tax on caskets, paper products, vehicles, etc. and I am now writing to you to express my concerns and those of my thousands of colleagues in funeral service regarding Mr. Wilson's Proposed Goods and Services Tax and the dramatic impact it will have on the bereaved citizens of Canada.

A delegation from the Funeral Service Association of Canada was invited to address the Standing Committee of Finance last October in Ottawa. They addressed the particular concerns most evident to those in our profession, who are dealing on a day-to-day basis with the bereaved and their feelings. Funeral directors per se have been most sympathetic to the needs of society.

This high-tech society has grown cold and aloof to many of our seniors, and the final indignity must seem to be a cruel government tax imposed on the cost of having their loved one taken away from them. This has to be devastating. We submit that funeralization is a necessary service, a continuum of the health care segment, and therefore, should be exempt from this tax.

Of more financial concern to our profession is the administrative nightmare of the pre-paid funeral arrangements. This was given great emphasis when within the last week we were addressed by a senior official of Revenue Canada, who added to our confusion.

The average life of these contracts is ten years (NFA study). Provincial Statutes control these funds and do so with great variance throughout the country. For these two reasons, no manner of regulations on a federal level could remove territorial disparities or public inequities.

I urge you to address the situation in caucus and render compassion to those who mourn.

Yours sincerely,
Gordon A. Monk,
Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home Ltd.

Backlot issue solved

Editor:

In a recent article regarding development on Bat Lake, Minden Council seems to have inadvertently answered the question of back-lot development with the municipality.

The Deputy-Reeve clearly states that it is up to the ministry to determine if a lake can stand further development.

Reeve Moore indicates that Council must rely on government bodies as the Council lacks expertise in environmental matters.

As the 1,000-foot setback is not part of the municipality's planning criteria and is only said to be a guideline, backlot development should bring a great deal of revenue to this area this summer—unobstructed by Council as long as provincial approval is granted.

Kid's Korner

by Jean Lacey

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list. It's as easy as that. Have fun!

It looked like a storm would break today. Last week I missed writing the item about Monday's movies. Ruth and Allan Rice showed the movies "Heavy Horse Pull", "Mary of Mile 18", "Mac's Mill" an "Yello Head Highway" and I also had Allan Rice instead of York Marion. I'm very sorry for this error.

Thursday the ladies of the Sr. Curling Club of Minden served a lovely lunch to us and also provided a gentleman to play the guitar and sing for us. We enjoyed the lunch greatly and the music of Reg Munns and thank both the ladies and Reg Munns immensely.

In the evening we played bingo. The person who was scheduled to call was unable to come, so Eldon and Mabel Deacon came and called in his place. We appreciate and thank them for coming.

Verna Jarvis had her daughter and her husband to visit her last week.

Friday afternoon was Happy Hour. The volunteers were Don and Ellen Holden, Mary Guillemain and Melvin Robertson. We thank them for their help. The music was provided by Connie and Mike Biagi. Connie on the guitar, Mike playing the mouth organ, Frank Falkener played the violin and Doris played the piano. Everyone enjoyed themselves and wish to thank the musicians sincerely for coming to play for them.

Friday evening the Grandfathers Four were in the main lounge to entertain us. Bill Payne, guitar and singing; Eldon Deacon, guitar and singing; George

A MESSAGE FROM
"OUR LEADERS"

Thank You!

We thank you for making it possible for us to achieve Awards of Excellence for our sales leadership during the 4th quarter of 1989. We are proud to be the top sales producers in our company's 4th quarter.

Quality Service - by Quality Salespeople Since 1952

Seniors enjoy their many visits from their friends

(from page 29)

Smith, violin and Charlie Hadley bass violin. It was an enjoyable evening and we do appreciate them coming to entertain us and thank them very much.

Vera Archer had Helen Archer and her daughter to visit her Saturday night. Ruby Lewis had her daughter May and Ray Cooper to visit her, Pearl Lyle had her daughter Jean to see her Sunday.

The Sunday night chapel service was taken by Rev. John Burgess and Alice Jones played the organ. The attendance was down a little but we had a good service.

Evelyn Coleman came Monday afternoon for bible study. We studied about Ruth one of the most lovable women in the bible, who left her own land of Moab and went with her mother-in-law Naomi to Bethlehem where she supported both of them with her gleanings from barley in the fields of Boaz, whom she married. Their son Obed is the grandfather of King David. We also studied Hannah, who personifies the ideal in motherhood, she prays for a child and Samuel is born. She dedicates the child to God before the child is born, and tends and prepares him for temple service.

Later in the afternoon Mrs. Marjorie Rennick was to have a Hymn Sing but was unable to be here, so we sang old favorites instead.

Monday night there were not any movies.

Pastor Fast took the service Tuesday morning in the chapel. Thank you very much.

Wednesday night Earl Cooper and Kathy Owens were here to entertain us with music and we thank them very much for coming especially on a foggy night like last night.

CARD OF THANKS

My heartfelt thanks to each and everyone of you. The cards, flowers, food, donations to our boys trust fund, and things too numerous to mention, helped make Merv's passing a little easier to bear. I'm overwhelmed by the love and compassion shown to me and my family. A very special thank you to Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, Bob Wood, Josy & Mike Maybee, Ben Manuge and especially my family. Thanks for being there.

Linda Mintz

Many thanks to all my friends, relatives & neighbours who showed so much concern & kindness with your phone calls, cards, flowers & visits during my recent stay in hospital. Special thanks also to all the doctors & nursing staff of Minden Hospital, Lindsay Ross Memorial and Sunny Brook Medical Centre who were there when needed and gave me such special care.

Betty Bacon & family.

After 2 1/2 months, Mother is back at home! She is not ready for a race yet, but thankfully she is making a steady pace with her walker. Sincere thanks to everyone for all their prayers, cards and letters, phone calls, gifts and hospital visits while Mother was in Lindsay and Minden hospitals. Special thanks to all the ambulance attendants involved from Christmas night to all the transfers between hospitals; Doctors Asbell, Holliday-Rhodes, Morgan and Manmohansingh; the hospital staff in Lindsay and Minden; therapist Sue Ripley; OPP Dave MacMartin; everyone at Stedmans; and everyone who helped at the accident scene Christmas night. Your compassionate touch to your professionalism was greatly appreciated.

Shirly & Annie Walker

We will always remember.

Laverne & Ruth Thomas and family.

IN MEMORIAM

WARBURTON, Joseph. In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather who passed away March 14, 1988.

We often think of bygone days When we were all together. The family chain is broken now, But memories will live forever. To us, he has not gone away, Nor has he travelled far. Just entered God's eternal home, And left the gate ajar.

Lovingly remembered by son Glen, daughter-in-law Marg & family.

PRIEST, Verna. In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother who passed away March 21, 1987.

Though her smile is gone forever And her hand we cannot touch Still we have so many memories, Of the one we loved so much. Her memory is our keepsake, With which we'll never part, God has her in His keeping, We have her in our hearts.

Sadly missed by husband Gordon, Elaine, son-in-law Rendal and grandchildren Grant, Glenda, Valerie, Darlene and Harold.

Still loved by his wife Mary.

IN MEMORIAM

WARBURTON, Joseph. In loving memory of a dear husband and father who passed away March 14, 1988.

What I'd give if I could say, Hello Dad, in the same old way. To hear your voice, see your smile, To sit with you and chat awhile. So you who have a husband and a father, Cherish him with care. For you'll never know the heartache, 'Til you see his vacant chair.

Sadly missed by wife Lila, daughter Eileen, and son-in-law Keith.

Easy Meals For One Or Two

This recipe is especially useful when cooking on a single burner hot plate. Use a double boiler.

1/4 lb. ground beef
 1/2 small onion, chopped
 5 oz. can vegetable soup, undiluted

1. Place ground beef in the top of the double boiler and brown it directly over the element using medium heat. Drain off any excess fat.
 2. Add onion and vegetable soup to meat.
 3. Steam while bringing approximately one inch of water to a boil in the bottom of the double boiler. Add potato and cook.
 4. Cover potato with the top of the double boiler. This allows the meat mixture to continue cooking.
 5. When the potato is cooked, add to meat mixture. Serve.

NOTE: Be sure the potato is cut so the top of the double boiler can fit properly over the bottom.

Speedy Stew
